UNIVERSITY STUDENT FORUM IN LEBANON 13/19 May 2010

The Master Programme on University Cooperation for Peace and Development of Sapienza University of Rome and AESI organize for 2010 a European University FORUM in Lebanon, great occasion for getting a deeper knowledge in geopolitics and international studies and also important chance for getting directly involved in an international university cooperation program aimed towards the peace-building process in Lebanon.

Thanks to the support of the Italian Embassy in Beirut and UNIFIL, it was possible to set up a university cooperation programme involving the Lebanese University and USEK University promoting a FORUM of European and Lebanese university students from the 13th to the 19th of May 2010. Purpose of the University FORUM will be develop deeper knowledge of the role of university cooperation for the promotion of peace and dialogue within young university students. Moreover, from the 13th until the 19th of May, the European students will have the chance to visit some of the most important historical sites of Lebanon.

The Delegation of the European University Students, coordinated by AESI, will be composed of 20 young graduates or final-year university students. Since places are limited, whoever might be interested is invited to send in before the 29th of April 2010 (excluded) their CV with photo and very brief letter of motivation, in order to be admitted to a general interview scheduled for the 4th of May 2010 at 10:00 AM in Rome within the Sapienza University of Rome.

Participation to the program will include flight Rome/Beirut/Rome in cooperation with the Italian Ministry of Defense. Room and board (offered in convention at favorable prices within a recommended structure in Beirut), internal transportation and international medical insurance will be on charge of each participant.

Whoever might be interested is invited to send in by e-mail an application to AESI (segreteria_aesi@yahoo.it), before the 29th of April 2010 (excluded). All students that are just about to finish their University program or graduates of any faculty, are invited to apply, sending in their CV with a photograph, together with the documentation requested in the application form. Fundamental is that participants have a relevant interest for International Cooperation activities and in particular for the Middle-Eastern area, together with a good knowledge of English language (that will be the main working language during this initiative in Lebanon). Each participant, during the program, will be asked to produce a brief paper/presentation on topics related to Lebanon that will be discussed at the end of the European University School.

At the end of this experience you will receive a certification of participation.
